

ABSTRACT

“Ground Transportation Helper Portal”, acts as provides ease to User. This project helps to maintain all the travel schedule data so as to improve the daily management of aviation traffic around the world as for, Rail transportation facilities and locations. Maps allow you to get all the information about the vessel travelling from one place to another. One can get the fare of the trip from the distance of the journey they want to initiate, the distance and duration will be display on our site. To let the users get their travel queries easily by providing all the details about the means of transport they select (i.e. by air or by rail).

It will help users to get all the information about the airports, airlines and rail stations details on a single website.